Paddy Power Poker – The best little card house in Texas (Hold ‘Em)

Paddy Power Poker, Ireland’s largest online poker community, was launched in January 2005. It quickly made an impact on the burgeoning Irish and British poker scene and has developed a reputation as ‘the poker player’s best friend’.

The Paddy Power Poker proposition

Thousands of unique players play on the site every day, attracted by:

- Genuine sign up bonuses (up to $101).
- Daily giveaway tournaments.
- Innovative site events and bonuses.
- Guaranteed liquidity.
- Industry leading software – secure, reliable, robust, innovative features.
- $2.5 million minimum prize money each month.
- Excellent customer service.
- Strong retention programs.
- Qualification for major offline tournaments.
- Open interaction between management and players.

Adding value

Paddy Power Poker supports the poker community with a variety of value-added features including:

- Play money games where novices can hone their skills without risking their cash.

- A weekly newsletter to keep players up-to-date with latest developments.
- Strategy articles to advance understanding of the game.
- A chat room to swap tales of classy calls and bad beats.
- Buddy lists to find out when friends are online and playing.
- Hand history and starting hand odds calculator for analysis and game improvement.
- Poker jargon and hand name dictionary.

Flush with success

Paddy Power Poker has sent players to some of the world's richest poker events including the World Series of Poker, the European Poker Tour, and the World Heads Up Championship. (see http://www.paddypowerpoker.com/cy_halloffame.php)

Oliver Boyce qualified for the World Speed Poker Open in London in September 2005 after entering a $3 tournament on Paddy Power Poker. He went on to beat some of the world's best poker professionals to win £50,000 (€88,000) and the title of World Speed Poker Open Champion 2005.

Game on

Paddy Power Poker is part of the Tribeca network. It boasts eight cage partners, over 200 brands, and a customer base of more than 200,000. This means players, from the nervous novice to the highest rollers, will always find the game they want, when they want.
